

Cloud Foundry Managed Services

Stark & Wayne's Cloud Foundry (OCF, PCF, IBM's CFEE, cloud.gov, etc.) Managed Services enables companies to use Cloud Foundry platforms to support their applications that are upgradable, maintainable, and scalable. The service also allows companies to own their data, providing an additional level of confidence and security.

With a smoothly running Cloud Foundry platform, application developers focus much more on app dev and quality, and they spend less time on operations. This provides substantial benefits in terms of business results, productivity, accelerated feedback loops, and higher levels of customer satisfaction.

For those companies using dedicated operators, Stark & Wayne Managed Services protects them from the risk of losing key personnel at critical times while continuing to reap the benefits of Cloud Foundry, even when an operator departs on short notice.

When your subscription is activated, the experts at Stark & Wayne review your requirements and set up your Cloud Foundry in a standardized, yet customizable configuration that provides all the benefits of such a powerful platform; yet it can be managed by anyone on our team.
